DRILLS UNDER A HOT SUN

THE HEAT SENT SEVERAL SOLDIERS INTO RETIREMENT.

Midnight March and Bivouse Planned, with a Return and Attack on the Camp Planned.

Pleasant enough were the quarters of the Indiana National Guard at the camp at kept to quarters, but in the open fields, heat was intense and the militlamen sufto leave camp, and only eight were compelled to retire from duty for the day.

Lewis Worthington, a member of one o the unassigned colored companies of this city, was sent home. He was prostrated by the heat during parade Sunday afternoon and the surgeons believed he would be unfit for further duty during the period of the encampment. Ogden Schell, of Fort Wayne, member of the hospital corps of the Third regiment, secured leave of absence on account of the illness of his mother, and ual. There were no men in the hospitals headquarters, Surgeon-general Wright was suffering with erysipelas in the left foot. He noticed the pain Sunday night, and thought it might be erysipelas, but not until yesterday, when he found the foot swollen to an abnormal size, did he begin treating it. He will stick to the camp, it possible, but may have to turn the work over to his assistant. General McKee was laid up yesterday afternoon with a severe headache. It did not interfere with his duties, however.

Army life was a reality beginning yesterday morning. Sunday the camp had not been put thoroughly in order, and, being a day of rest anyhow, the military discipline was not so rigidly enforced; but yesterday every soldier had to come to the scratch in every little point of duty. It was a new thing to many of the boys who are spending their first days in camp, and it was not surprising that many of them found their way into the guardhouse. There is a great rivalry between the various companies, and especially between those of different regiments which adjoin Lines are strictly drawn between the regiments, and a patrol of pickets is constantly on duty along these lines. Woe to any ssioned officer or high private who steps over the line. He is instantly in the hands of the enemy. He is marched off to the guardhouse of the regiment which captures him, and held until he can be escorted back to his own regiment, after the proper amount of red tape has been used. en comes the trial, which is by courtmartial, if the offense is serious, or by what is known as the summary court, for small SUMMARY COURT HELD. Yesterday morning summary court was held in the Second and Fourth regiments. The former had four cases where privates had gone through the lines, presumably to spend the night in the city. They were missed at roll call yesterday morning, and when they returned were placed in the guardhouse. They were each sentenced to will leave Thursday for a visit to Kendall- serve six hours on police duty. Police duty out, and how to keep cool was the quesin camp means wielding the pick, shovel In the Fourth regiment there were six ofthrough the lines and were reprimanded. The sixth had gone to the city and got beastly, drunk. He was in that condition when captured on his return. He was ordered to three days of police duty. In the First regiment there was a case of gross disrespect to an officer, and assault upon a fellow-private: This was tried by a court-martial and taken under advisement. The Third regiment had no offenders. The camp is considered the most perfect, in point of order and cleanliness, that the Indiana guard has ever had. The inspection of troops, ordnance, arms and quarters is in charge of Colonel Lee and Lieutenant Barnett. Both these gentlemen spent much time about the quarters of the regiments and in the fields during drill time. Both men were very liberal in praise of the camp. Lieutenant Barnett is a retired army officer, who has seen such things as they are conduced in the United States armies. He has more to do with the inspection of the men themselves, their arms and uniforms. His opinion is that the militiamen of Indiana are far above the members of the regular army in intelligence and in appearance. He noticed the new companies esecially and found that they are very quick to learn how to conduct themselves and to respond to the call of duty as militiamen. Both these officers will make daily trips through camp and will make a detailed written report at the close of the encampment. The report will give their opinion of the various regiments and companies, dealing with their appearance in quarters and in the field. Lieutenant Defrees is the other United States officer at the camp. He has been very valuable to the Indiana militia. The regular routine of duty was carried yesterday. All morning the crack of the heavy rifles could be heard in the river bottom, as the target practice was in progress. Company H. of the Second regiment, Captain Tarleton, has hopes of defeating all companies in this part of the exercises, just as the company defeated all comers in the recent drill at the fair grounds. The company spent over a week in camp before the arrival of the other troops for the benefit to be obtained from the rifle range. The members of the company grew efficient in the work. This is in wide contrast with a number of the other companies, many members of which had never fired at the long ranges. The work yesterday was not of a very fine order, but, with practice, Captain McCormack believes he can make good marksmen of the entire brigade. After the routine work of to-day is over, probable that the troops will be given little touch of something more nearly akin to real army life than merely loungien party will be given in their honor, and | ing in camp and responding to the drill calls three or four times a day. After mess o-night, if the plan goes through, General McKee will instruct two regiments of infantry and a battery or two to proceed seven or eight miles north of camp, bivouac for the night, and attack the camp next morning. The attack will not be in the nature of a sham battle, which is a thing abforred by army men, but will be a contest for points in strategy. General McKee and the army officers in camp will act as umpires and will pass upon the various maneuvers of troops, either in regiments or detachments. The judgment will be upon the possibility of victory or defeat from the various positions taken while in the field.

This work will take the place of the morn-

AN ENDEAVORER CONVENTION AT BETHANY IN AFTERNOON.

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society Day at Acton-Thoughts from Some of the Addresses.

At 9 o'clock yesterday Miss Mattie B. of Cincinnati, editor Lookout, gave at Bethany the first of a series of talks that she has prepared for practical endeavor work. Her subject was "The New Reciprocity." First, she showed the need of young and old people working together. She said, "Young people are old people in people fully developed." Then referring to the word "reciprocity" she said it was not a new word, but only an old one in a new dress. It has a biblical origin; when Christ said. "Bear ye one another's burdens" he meant the same thing. This brought in the idea of the grace of giving. She remarked: "To have, we must give. There is really no such thing as independence. A man may think he is perfectly independent, but he is like a well-forged link that is outside of a chain. The link may be perfectly made, but unless it helps make a chain, it is useless. That brings us to the need of being identified in league formation. "If we would be workers for Christ," said she, "we must form a league, both offensive and defensive. Our Christian Endeavor work is one of the greatest events of the latter part of this nineteenth century. It gives the young people something to do. To make persons trustworthy you must trust them. There are several reasons why young people are fitted for offices of trust in church work. First, they more fully realize their obligations to their duties. Second, they are more enthusiastic, and enthusiasm is nothing less than faith. Again, they have more faith in humanity. Let us then, both old and young, realize more Fairview yesterday, as long as the soldiers | fully the great opportunities there are for pre-empting the ground for Christ before it has been spoiled by cynical cultivation."

> only difference is that the latter is purely iterary, while the former requires one to read two books of the Bible and one of the church papers each year. In the afternoon a Y. P. S vention was held at the tabernacle. There was an opening rally, after which some deavor songs were sung and then Dr. H. J. Hall, of Franklin, Ind., addressed the assembly on the subject of the Christian Endeavor School and its aims. is to make ready the Christian for Christian work. As an example he cited the Chautauqua movement; one of the things that made it successful was the training it gave for true Christian work. The pubschool system derives its success from the normal school work. The age demands workers that are better trained, not only in school work, but in professional also. Yet the church has the greatest need for trained toilers. Bethany has four departments of Christians Endeavor teaching: first, how to study and make a practical use of the Bible; second, training leaders in Christian Endeavor music; third, training junior superintendents; fourth, the

At 4 o'clock Prof. Hackleman furnished musical programme. Also at this time a missionary prayer meeting was held at the C. W. B. M. building, Miss Franklin acted as leader. At 7:30 a concert lasting half an hour took place at the tabernacle. After this, J. V. Coombs, of Irvington, lectured on the subject of "X Rays." Science has forever been trying to secure the strongest artificial light. Pine knots, lard oil lamps, tallow candles each had their day. At last electricity superseded them all and defies the sun. And now come the X rays to flash a picture of one's inner self. We sit for our photo and if good we favor our friends," said he, "but if the X rays would give us a picture of our crooked spines. opaque spleens and galled livers we would nide them from the sight of our friends. the aim is now to go deeper and strike it the roots of the disease. They want to ook through a man's cranium and watch think. If our thoughts were photographed how many would be willing to place them before the world? Applying it to the moral side of the question, God's word is the X ray that will show to us our inward nature. Let us turn the X rays on the lukewarm Christian, the false busness man, the sham preacher and look at the picture.' Following the lecture twenty-four minites were given for twelve different talks. In conclusion there was a series of openair meetings and camp-fire speeches led by

In spite of the heat a scrub game of baseball was played by the boys and work on the tennis court was begun. As the day was in charge of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, a large number of ladies were on the grounds and attended the meeting. In the morning Miss Kemper, of India, exhibited a collection of relies in the pavilion which she had collected during her stay in India, and at 10:30 Prof. Charles Hodell, of Pittsburg. gave his lecture on "Robert Browning" to good audience. Prof. Hodell's address showed a careful insight and an appreciative research into the works of Browning, and although it was quite long, it was carefully listened to by his hearers. After a short song service in the afternoon, Mrs. Eliza C. Armstrong, editor of the Friends' Missionary Advocate, spoke on the subject of "Tithing and God's Financial Plan," She showed the origin of tithing to be from God and said that God's plan of finance and His kingdom were as clearly defined as our own earthly king-After showing the results of giving one-tenth to the Lord, the speaker made a strong plea for it practice, and the result was that many promised to study into the subject and see its import. Miss Harriet Kemper then gave a talk on her work in India. She said some of the reigning familles were in power before the British isles were settled, but now England takes one-third of all the wealth of the country and leaves two-thirds for the three distinct peoples in India. English is the court language. Persian the literary language, Sanscrit the written, and there are 160 cultivated languages besides. Showing religious fanaticism of the Hindoo, Kemper said that while standing on a bridge over the Ganges river she saw ten dead bodies float by in ten minutes. the natives believing that the body or any part of it placed in the Ganges after death saves the soul from destruction. Mrs. Prof. Vayhinger and Mrs. Hannaman sang a Hindoo duet, after which Miss Holderness, the native girl from Liberia, again told the story of her life. At 4 o'clock Miss Hawley conducted a children's meeting. Last night and this

EAGLE LAKE, Ind., July 27 .- Notwithstanding the constant rain, which is said to have raised the level of Eagle lake to the extent of nineteen inches, Winona is progressing and the attendance increasing. In order to reach the auditorium this morning, to hear Mr. Leon H. Vincent, all were willing to wade the distance necessary, and it looked for a time as though this would have to be done, as about fifteen or twenty minutes before time for the lecture to begin torrents of water fell coming with wonderful force for awhile. The shower lasted but a short time, howa state of formation; old people are young | ever, and there was the usual large and enthusiastic audience present to greet and listen to Mr. Vincent on "Washington Irving." the lecture containing a great amount of sarcasm and ridicule, of which some of the works of Irving contained so much. There was a good audience at the Auditorium this evening to listen to the oratorio, "The Daughter of Jairus," render d by the Winona chorus and orchestra, under the direction of Prof. William Miles, of Fort Wayne, who has a wide reputation in the training of chorus classes. The solo singers were Miss Leo Annette Long, soprano, of Fort Wayne, and Mr. Gwilyn Miles, of New York city, baritone, About forty were in the chorus, which, with the soloists, rendered the oratorio exceedingly well. The orchestra gave a delightful introductory piece, and the judgment previ-ously passed upon them that they are all experts on their separate instruments can-

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT MUST SOON FIGURE ON THEM.

Controller's Report, Showing Heavy Increase in Expenditures-Mayor's Monthly Cabinet Meeting.

At the monthly cabinet meeting yesterday afternoon Mayor Taggart called at tention of the different departments to the fact that all recommendations for appropriations for the coming year should be presented by Sept. 1, so that the Council will have time to consider such recommendations before the 1st of October, when appropriations are usually made. This is subject that requires considerable thought, he said, and the boards ought to be at work now calculating how much money they will need next year. He also referred to the garbage question and said it was a matter of equal interest to the Board of Health and Board of Public Works. In his estimation it would be well for them to hold a joint conference to consider this subject soon. He said that the Board of Public Works is considering plans for the disposition of garbage which the Board of Health may wish to consider. The Mayor also said that he received a letter last Saturday from Mr. Davis, vice president of the water company, informing him that the company has accepted the plans submitted for filters and that final details

"I am informed," said the Mayor, "that not only will the company build filters, but also that they will be the best in the country and will furnish pure and wholesome

City Controller Johnson submitted a comparative report of receipts and expenditures for the half year ending July 1, 1896. 1896, $493,893.64; expenditures, 1895, $407,418.71; 1896, $432,945.47. The report contained the following explanatory statement:

while from other sources receipts increased

$15,648.10. Expenditures increased $25,520.76.

This increase is caused by improvements in new engine houses and apparatus, $32 .-542.83; hospital, $6,309; cost of street sweeping, $3,679.74, and heretofore paid by the city, and $16,896.17 more than last year paid on account of parks. Total unusual expenses paid this year, $64,418.74. It is estimated that collections on account of the second installment of taxes will be at least $15,000 short of last year; hence it will require the closest and most careful economy in all departments to get through the year with the revenues in sight. Referring to the Belt railroad bonds, the report said: "On July 10, 1896, the Union Railroad and Stock Yards Company paid into the city treasury $515,000 in full payment of bonds and interest to Jan. 1, 1897. held by the city as security for $500,000 6per-cent, bonds issued in aid of the railroad Jan. 1, 1877, and maturing in twenty years. These last named bonds will be paid Jan. 1, 1897, thereby reducing the city's indebtedness $500,000," The Board of Public Works and the Poard of Safety submitted reports covering routine transactions for the month Reference was made to the contract entered into between the city and the Central the hands of the Council. This the board looks upon as being a good contract for is well known for the number of its fast the city. The board also reported that the long distance riders. PARK PLANS COMING. Oran Perry, of the Board of Park Commissioners, reported that the question of purchasing small parks has been under consideration for a long time. He said that the board is now looking at different tracts of land with a view to having the city dotted with small breathing places. In a few weeks, he said, the commissioners will be prepared to submit a general park plan for the approval and criticism of the Mayor. Mr. Perry said that it is probable South Side residents will secure sufficient donations to enable the commissioners to establish an eastern entrance to Garfield Park. He expressed the wish that the members of the cabinet would visit Garfield Park. The Mayor jocosely suggested that the next cabinet meeting might be held He said that he visited the park recently and felt that the commisioners are to be complimented on the results that have been obtained. Mr. Perry said he felt that South-siders appreciate the park, as they go there by the thou-Last Sunday about six thousand people visited the grounds. President Maguire, of the Board of Public Safety, asked President Downing, of the Board of Public Works, if he had examined the roadway of Meridian street He said that it was getting in bad condition in some places. Mr. Downing replied that he knew the blocks were splintering off in spots. Fulmer & Seibert have promised, the Mayor said, to take out bad blocks. This street has only been improved a half year. Mr. Downing said that the creosoting plant will be in operation today. The blocks which the new company intends to creosote and put down will be of uniform size, so that there will be no splintering at the interstices.

THE ROAD AS A BENEFIT. Commercial Club to Investigate the Logansport Route. The Board of Public Works was informed yesterday that the board of directors of the Commercial Club are investigating the proposed Indianapolis. Logansport & Chicago railroad to ascertain whether the city will be benefited by the construction of the route. A meeting will be held to consider whether the city ought to grant the company the right of way into the Union Station, for which it has petitioned the board. The board was apprised of this fact and requested to defer taking any action adverse to the company until the directors could appear before it and express the views of the club on the question. A letter was sent to Evans Woollen, secretary of the club, informing him that the board will be glad to learn the conclusion reached by the directors. On the recommendation of Fire Chief Webster the boarl decided to grant the equest of the Central Cycle Manufacturing Company for additional fire protection. The Indianapolis Water Company was requested As- I ridian streets, with a four-way hydrant. I are not true.

The company asserted that in case of fire at the Industrial Training School, the Perry cart works or at their own plant, heavy de mands would be made on this hydrant. A communication was sent to the Citizens' Street-railroad Company ordering crossing stones placed between its tracks at North street and Senate avenue. Lee Fulmer, of Fulmer & Selbert, re-renewed the contention of his firm that a former Democratic administration permitted inferior material to be used in the brick pavement on South Delaware street, from South to Madison avenue, and that the firm cannot be held responsible for the fact that it has worn away, although it is not yet five years old. The pavement was laid in 1891, during the Sullivan administration. Mr. Fulmer says his company is willing to relinquish the $1,150 that the city holds in the guaranty fund, but that they will not pay the expenses of rebuilding the street. Bids will be received for repaving the street. The expense will be paid from the general fund. Whether or not suit will be brought against the contractors and their bondsmen has not been determined.

Instead plans were adopted for a main sewer in Michigan avenue, Cruse, Meek and Dillon streets and the first alley north of Fletcher avenue, from Washington to Dillon streets, with branches.

Improvement Contracts Let.

The Board of Public Works awarded several contracts for street improvements yesterday. H. H. Pauley's bid of 37 cents a foot for graveling the first alley north of New York street, from Highland avenue to Hanna street, was accepted.

Palmer street, from Meridian to Madison avenue, was awarded to Davidson & Lingenfelter at 65 cents. # SETTLERS' DAY RACES.

There Will Be Some Unusual Cycle Features that Day.

The board of directors of the Indianapolis Cycle Track Association met last night to make arrangements for the next meet to be held at the Broad Ripple track. The date had been fixed for Aug. 17, but this was changed and there will be a two days' meet Aug 21 and 22. The State meetnoon of the second day. The programme hands of a committee. It was agreed, however, that, besides the usual events, an effort would be made to arrange for some match races for good prizes. Indianapolis igus to arrange for, is a five-mile race between La Rue, of this city, and Singleton, of Castleton Among the special features of the meet will be exhibitions by trick riders. Another feature will be the exhibition of a water cycle, which C. G. Fisher will have consigned him from the manufacturers at Milwaukee. ## NO SALARY FOR OFFICERS

Dreadful Straits.

The Big Four, the Monon and the Vandalia were represented before the State Board of Tax Commissioners yesterday morning. The first named road was represented by John T. Dye and S. O. Bayless. The latter made the statement that the earnings of the system for the first six months of this year had fallen off $251,000 on account of the heavy decrease in freight traffic. Upon this and various minor grounds he and Mr. Dye pleaded with the board to be as easy with the company as possible. Mr. David Stotts appeared for the Vandalia, but had mercy on the board on account of the hot weather and made no speech, merely remarking that the board should give some attention to the Logansport & Terre Haute branch, which was not a money-making institution. Judge E. C. Fields and James E. Murdock spoke for the Monon. They gave much attention to the hard times, and Mr. Murdock declared that not one of the officers had received any salary for the last year. Attorney-general Ketcham came before the board and made an argument in opposition to that of S. O. Pickens, who on Saturday asked for a reduction of the Western Union assessment. He declared that the company had been persistent in its refusal to pay taxes and obey the law of the State, and it came with very poor grace to ask any favors from the State in the way of a reduction of taxation.

His Disgrace Caused His Suicide. Mrs. Mary E. Nowlin, mother of Ralph Nowlin, who committed suicide in this city Greencastle, where she has been canvassing for a patent-medicine company. Mrs. Nowlin had not learned of her son's death, owing to the inability of the tele graph company to find her, and her son-inlaw, O. P. Woodruff, of Anderson, who brought her to this city yesterday afternoon, did not inform her of the fact until they arrived here. It has not yet been decided when the funeral of Nowlin will be Mr. Bullock, a brother-in-law of Nowlin, believes that it was the disgrace which was attached to young Nowlin's arrest a few days ago that caused him to end his life. ## RECEIVERS FOR TAXES

A NEW WAY TO MAKE EXPRESS COMPANIES SETTLE WITH STATE.

Attorney-General Brings Suit in New Shape-Cattle Dealer Solomon Block on Trial.

The Attorney-general began proceedings yesterday against the Adams, American and United States express companies to collect taxes due the State for 1895. The suits are to compel the companies to pay taxes due in the different counties through which they operate. The complaints are filed in the name of the State. It is alleged that the Adams Express Company owes $6,440.76; the American $6,602.53 and the United States $3,469.74. The State alleges that the companies are solvent and amply able to pay, but fail and refuse to

It is also alleged that for the sheriffs or treasurers of the different countles to seize property in transport would do serious harm to the patrons of the company in violation of the rights of public carriers. The court is therefore asked to appoint whether there are sufficient remonstrators | erate them and apply all receipts to the to defeat the improvement, action was payment of taxes illegally detained, after the payment of operating expenses.

WILLS OF TWO SUICIDES.

Disposition of Estates of John H. Banke and C. J. Kuhn.

Among the wills admitted to probate yesterday were those of two men who committed suicide last week-John Henry Banke and Charles J. Kuhn. The latter was an old and well-known German butcher who took his life by severing arteries in his wrist and leg and bleeding himself to death. Banke jumped into White river near the Michigan-street bridge. The latter left his house and lot and all his household effects to his wife, Elizabeth Banke. At her death it is to revert to their daughter Ida. His tools are to be divided between his sons Frederick and Herbert. property is bequeathed to his wife, Fried-

The joint will of Thomas B, and Sarah E. Thornberry was also presented for pro-bate. Mrs. Thornberry died some months ago. By the terms of the joint will the survivor was to take and hold all property held by them in severalty at the time of the execution of the will. At the death of the survivor the estate is to be held in trust for the common use of their children. Mary McCarty was appointed executrix of the estate of her mother, Bridget Mcey east of Highland avenue, from New Carty, who bequeathed one dollar to her William C., and directed that the residue of her estate is to be held in trust for the benefit of her daughters, Mary, Ella. Margaret and Nora, until the latter becomes of age. Meantime they are to receive the rents and profits for their maintenance and education. Mrs. McCarty explained the nominal bequest to her son by saying that she had sold him a piece of property, taking long-time notes without This, she said, she deemed as equal to the portion of the estate he would have received from her. If either of the girls marries before Nora attains her majorlty the property is to be divided and her at the instance of stock buyers at the stock yards, is being tried in the Criminal obtaining money on false pretenses and grand larceny. Block purchased a great many head of cattle, giving checks on the Citizens' Bank, of Buffalo The cattle were shipped East and sold, but the checks were returned dishonored by the bank. Since then the dealers claim the money has not been paid. Block's trial began yesterday on the first indictment, charging him with obtaining forty head of cattle from Fesler, Totin & Co., to whom he gave a check for $2,338.84. Thomas A. Jeffreys, of Jeffreys, Fuller & Co., and Smith Graves, of M. Sells & Co., testified that they had known Block for a great many years and that they believed his representations that he owned real estate in Buffalo worth $35,000. Since the checks were returned uncashed they discovered that he has nothing in his own name and that all his property is in the name of his wife.

Block has not yet testified in his own behalf. Last winter he said that the trouble about the checks was all due to the fact that the bank suddenly refused to extend time on a note he owed the bank and instead of applying money he had on deposit to the payment of the checks, it was applied on his note. This left him practically without resources. His statements, in this respect were verified by a member of one of the firms who went to Buffalo to investigate. Much interest is being taken in the case by local stock buyers. There was one episode during the trial yesterday afternoon while Smith Graves was testifying. Not far from him sat Solo-mon Block and his attorney, W. W. Herod. Graves paused in his testimony and sud denly addressed Judge McCray.

"Your honor," he said, "I am a citizen of Indianapolis and have lived here for years. I came into court on a subpoena and have sworn to tell the truth. That man," shaking his finger at Block, "has just accused me of lying in my testimony. demand the protection of this court." Block sprang to his feet and declared that he had not uttered a word. His statement was confirmed by Mr. Herod. Block was cautioned not to intimidate a witness, whereupon Graves declared that he was not a bit intimidated, but that he did not propose to have a man rob him and then call him a liar. The witness and Block met in the hall when court adjourned and had more words, but did not come to blows. The trial will be resumed

HARRY L. GAINS WITHDRAWS. The Association He Sued Bought Up

His Stock. Harry L. Gains and two other plaintiffs have withdrawn from the suit commenced several days ago against the Union National Savings and Loan Association wherein an accounting was demanded and the appointment of a receiver prayed for. The trial will continue this morning in Room 2 as between other plaintiffs and the association. Leave was asked yesterday to file an amended complaint making other parties defendants. It is understood that Gains's stock has been bought up by the association, as well as that of other withdrawing complainants, so that they have no further interest in the management of the association.

Court Notes. Agnes C. Worland is suing Thomas H. Robinson for $5,000 damages, claiming that he has circulated false and slanderous stories against her.
